

BMFC 2019 Awards

We rounded off this years AGM with the annual award ceremony. James Ladell, Chairman, presented the honours.

Tim Knox was awarded the Dick Whittington Cup for flying achievements. Tim has improved throughout this year, particularly practicing aeros and scale flying. A true achiever and team play freely giving his time to help others.

Sadly, despite a well deserved award to Vic Blackwood for Services to the Club there was no trophy and no photograph. Vic has been on the committee for many years and seems to have an endless capacity to take on gritty jobs like resolving achievement awards and taking on the secretary role whilst continuing to lead on training new members.

There was strong competition for the Marston Derbyshire Achievers Trophy, leading to a very worthy winner, the Time & Space Aeronauts. They have been members of the BMFC for only a year, but have entered the BMFA Payload Challenge for at least 3 years.

Those familiar with the Payload Challenge will know that the entries are international and generally consist of specialist universities like Loughborough.

Mark Adams gave us a spirited presentation showing how one of the pupils in particular, Ryan, had built upon his enthusiasm and developing experience to take the 2019 competition by storm.

The team won the 3 challenges they entered - egg lift; quantity and distance.

I am hoping that I will soon be able to provide links to more information about the Time & Space Aeronauts.
